ABOUT THE MALAYSIAN TECHNICAL COOPERATION PROGRAMME

The Malaysian Technical Cooperation Programme (MTCP) was officially launched on 7 September 1980 at the Commonwealth Heads of State Meeting in New Delhi, India, to signify Malaysia's commitment to the South-South cooperation. In particular, the Technical Cooperation among Developing Countries (TCDC).

The MTCP emphasises on the development of human resources through the provision of training in various areas which are essential for a country's development such as agriculture, economy, finance, public management and administration, science & technology and ICT, health, diplomacy, safety and security including cyber security, cultural diplomacy, social development, environment-related & SDG2030, education, industrial and technical training. Annually, Malaysia offered more than 60 technical and capacity-building programs under the MTCP, which have benefited more than 35,500 participants from 144 countries.

OBJECTIVES OF MTCP

- To share the development experience with other countries;
- To strengthen bilateral relations between Malaysia and other developing countries;
- To promote South-South Cooperation (SSC); and
- To promote technical cooperation among Developing Countries.

MALAYSIAN TECHNICAL COOPERATION PROGRAMME (MTCP) 2022

Online Class

"PUBLIC PRIVATE PARTNERSHIP IN MALAYSIA"

13 - 16 JUNE 2022

0900 - 1700 hrs Malaysia Time Zone (GMT+8)

Organised By:
Public Private Partnership Unit,
Prime Minister's Department, Malaysia

OVERVIEW

Malaysia is a vibrant, dynamic and progressive country, blessed with a rich and diverse multicultural society. Since her liberation in 1958, Malaysia has transitioned from a country dependent on agriculture and primary commodities to an export oriented economy powered on by high technology, knowledge and resource-based industries.

Malaysia found huge momentum in Southeast Asia and the 38th largest in the world, the World Competitiveness Yearbook 2021 recognises Malaysia as the 25th most competitive nation from 2019 onwards. Malaysia also holds the accolade of being the most competitive country to do business amongst 190 countries in the world bank's Doing Business Report 2020. Malaysia's strengths include political stability, a well-developed legal system, excellent infrastructure and a proactive workforce. Malaysia is expected to transition to a high income economy between 2024 to 2028, a reflection of the country's economic transformation over the years.

PUBLIC-PRIVATE PARTNERSHIP (PPP) DEVELOPMENT IN MALAYSIA

Malaysia's public-private partnership began in 1983 when the government introduced its Privatisation Policy. Due to various constraints faced by the public sector in the 1990s, the Malaysian government began to encourage and facilitate public-private participation in its infrastructure development. This gave impetus to the significant involvement of the private sector through public-private partnerships in the development and operation of infrastructure projects in Malaysia.

The New Economic Plan (2006 - 2010) saw the government utilising public-private by adopting new approaches and mechanisms to enhance the efficacy of the privatisation program. Malaysia recognised the potential of utilising PPP to harness the resources from both the public and private sectors to provide better and more efficient public services. In pursuance of this, Malaysia took further opportunities to form smart partnerships between the government and private sector in the provision of public infrastructure services, facilities and related services.

PUBLIC-PRIVATE PARTNERSHIP UNIT (UKAS), PRIME MINISTER'S DEPARTMENT

The Public-Private Partnership Unit (UKAS) is the central agency responsible for planning, facilitating and coordinating PPP projects in Malaysia. Established on 22 April 2009 under the Prime Minister's Department, UKAS endeavours to address the challenges and to foster collaboration between the public and private sectors. With more than thirty years of experience in infrastructure, expertise in PPP has attracted interest from other countries, evidenced by the continued requests for technical assistance, government and international organisations to exchange study visits and consultations.

To date, UKAS has held engagements and consultations with countries such as Uganda, Tanzania, United Arab Emirates, Ghana, Bangladesh, Sudan, India, Mongolia, Singapore and Canada, and international organisations including World Bank, International Monetary Fund (IMF), Asia Pacific Economic Cooperation (APEC), Islamic Development Bank (IDB), Asia Development Bank (ADB) and Japan International Cooperation Agency (JICA).

Recognising the growing importance of Public Private Partnerships in the economic development of a country, Malaysia through UKAS is proud to promote her experience and best practices in PPP projects to other developing nations. In the spirit of South-South Cooperation, this course under the Malaysian Technical Cooperation Programme will also give the opportunity for Malaysia to share her vast experience and expertise to friends from far and near, and strengthen UKAS' position as a referral centre for PPP.

OBJECTIVES

- i. To impart knowledge about the goals of PPP and understanding of its modality;
- ii. To allow participants to understand the principles that will help produce successful PPP projects;
- iii. To impart knowledge on the processes that will lead to a successful PPP engagement;
- iv. To share Malaysia's PPP best practices and experiences with other countries; and
- v. To enhance networking and bilateral ties between officials from different countries.

TARGET PARTICIPANTS
